

Graduate Nurses.....

Take control of your career and join the MeRGE network

As a MeRGE Graduate you will have a unique opportunity to gain exposure to a broad spectrum of health experiences.

You will undertake your graduate nurse program within a cooperative partnership between Western Health's tertiary specialty areas and the rural health setting at Stawell Regional Health. This is a valuable prospect to increase your understanding of the exciting opportunities within Metro and Rural environments.

At Western Health and Stawell Regional Health we are excited to offer this unique graduate experience, the MeRGE Program (Metro – Rural Graduate Experience Program). Graduates will experience a six month rotation between our two health services, providing an integrated and flexible graduate program.

If you have strong goals and aspirations, and are looking to take control of your career, the MeRGE Program could be for you! Please lodge your expression of interest within your letter of application for the Stawell Regional Health Graduate Nurse Program. If you have any other general queries, please contact Rebecca Peters on 5358 8637, or via email at rebecca.peters@srh.org.au
